Question #4: Paragraphs 4.5.1 and 4.5.4 – "The availability of any required computer resources while working in government facilities should be verified in advance with the designated COR." Also, "PCs should not be proposed as a direct charge under this solicitation." This language seems to indicate that after the award is made, if sufficient computing resources are available at the government site for the contractor, a PC will be made available. If not, then the contractor is expected to provide a PC out of Overhead. Please confirm the intent of this language or clarify to your knowledge.

Answer #4: The contractor is required to provide the computer equipment necessary to meet the requirements of the solicitation. Computers are not to be included and/or charged as a direct charge to the contract.
